LOS ANGELES, CA —Starbucks *Evenings, Starbucks' latest twist on its legendary coffee houses can now be found at Los Angeles International Airport's Tom Bradley International Terminal (TBIT). Travelers can take a break with a great glass of wine or a premium Los Angeles brewed craft beer before a flight. Global restaurateur HMSHost opened the new café on October 10th. Now, visitors to the new international terminal have the chance to wind down with selections from the refined Evenings menu which, in addition to beer and wine, features delicious food and a variety of Starbucks coffee and tea. Starbucks Evenings is just one of over 60 exciting options in Westfield's new dining and retail collection at the new TBIT, featuring celebrated local and leading global brands, and cutting-edge design.

In an exclusive partnership, HMSHost and Starbucks opened the first airport Starbucks over 20 years ago. This new opening at Los Angeles International Airport represents the first west coast airport-based location of Starbucks Evenings, with the previous one being at Washington Dulles International Airport.

“Starbucks Evenings is an absolutely beautiful café where travelers can sit back and take it easy inside the striking new Tom Bradley International Terminal at Los Angeles Airport,” said HMShost Vice President of Business Development Joe Waller. “The Evenings design is very L.A. – casual, comfortable, and refined. It is truly a special place for travelers to spoil themselves with a glass of fine wine, indulge in a local craft brew, or sip on a cup of world-class coffee.”

Starbucks Evenings’ distinctly appealing experience comes from the smart beer and wine selections which are accompanied by tasty small plates and classic café comfort like Chipotle Hummus Dip and Goat Cheese Flatbread. It is a place for all types of travelers, whether on business or holiday, to relax amidst the hustle and bustle of the airport.

To ensure full convenience for travelers, the Tom Bradley International Terminal will also be home to another Starbucks coffee shop that is opening this December.
